Great Council of Red Men For South Carolina

WILL MEET WITH BERGELL TRIBE NO. 24

The Great Council of the Improved Order of Red Men will hold its annual convention in Newberry next week. This order is only about 4,000 strong in South Carolina, but with the Degree of Pocahontas, which meets at the same time, there will be some 300 representatives in the city for the meeting.

The local tribe is making preparations to make this one of the best conventions of the Great Council. Mr. Otto Klettner, who is one of the most intelligent and most enthusiastic members of the order, is in charge of the arrangements for the meeting, the saying of which means that nothing will be left undone or untought for a most successful meeting.

The local tribe has been signally honored by the order in this State. Two of the great representatives to the Great Council of the United States are members of the local tribe—Otto Klettner and Cole L. Blease. E. H. Aull is a past great sachem. Mr. Blease at the last meeting of the Great Council of the United States, in Portland, Me., was appointed a member of the committee of laws, one of the most important committees of the Great Council.

Solicitor Albert E. Hill, of Spartanburg, is great sachem for this State, and will preside during the convention. Hon. Thos. H. Jefferies, of Atlanta, will be present and represent the great in-cobonee. He is a fine speaker and his address at the public meeting on Monday night will be worth your while.

The twenty-sixth annual session of the great council of Improved Order of Red Men in South Carolina and the seventh annual session of the great council of Degree of Pocahontas will be held at Newberry from Monday to Wednesday, April 12 to 14.

The Red Men will hold their meeting in the Newberry court house. The session of the Pocahontas degree will be held in Klettner's hall. Speakers of note will be in attendance on these great councils and much interest is displayed by Red Men all over the State in the annual great session.

DIRECTIONS FOR CULTIVATING AND CANNING PIMENTOS

The best varieties for canning and food product in the raw state are the large sweet Spanish, the Pimento and Livingston's upright.

Prepare ground thoroughly, first broadcasting area with lime, then sub-soiling. Make rows two and a half feet wide, check with rows two and a half feet apart. Use high-grade fertilizer, the rate of 1,000 pound per acre. Plant three or four seed in the hill formed by these checks. The surplus plants may be withdrawn and sold, leaving one strong plant to grow in each hill. When the plants are 12 or 15 inches high apply nitrate of soda. Plants respond readily to this and when about two feet tall ought to be laden with fruit.

When the canning season begins the peppers should be picked early in the morning and placed on trays to avoid bruising. To prepare them for canning, have thoroughly ripe ones. Cut around the stem with a very sharp paring knife, withdraw the seed burr by means of stem. Remove partitions, for the seed and division wall contain all the oil which makes the pepper hot and can be saved for seasoning soups, sauces and pickles.

Now, after removing these we have the beautiful, large red caps which are placed side by side, none overlapping, into a biscuit pan which is put into a very hot stove oven. In ten or fifteen minutes these pods will blister; remove pan immediately from the stove and peel as quickly as possible, as the peeling leaves them so much more readily while hot.

Pack these leathery pulps in tin cans. They can be left to have their natural juices extracted by heat or a little olive oil put in the bottom of the can before putting in the peppers. Cook twenty minutes without exhausting, or exhaust five minutes and process fifteen minutes.

To can in glass use pints, fill jar three-fourths full of pulps, cover with white vinegar, to every pint of which has been added a teaspoon of sugar. Seal and process twenty minutes.

These canning products may be used in making salad:

Cut equal quantity of apples, or pears, celery, walnuts or pecans with canned pimentos over which pour French relish made by using the white wine vinegar, from which the pimentos are taken, into which has been stirred the following ingredients: Two well-beaten eggs, half teaspoon salt, half teaspoon mustard, a fourth teaspoon black pepper, one tablespoon sugar and one tablespoon flour. Beat all together, add to boiling vinegar and stir until it becomes a smooth paste. Pour over chopped fruit, nuts, celery and pimentos; place in refrigerator to cool. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Pimento Catsup.

Place pods after removing seed into a preserving kettle, using a peck of peppers; add to these a quart of white wine vinegar, three teaspoons of sugar, one heaping teaspoon of powdered cinnamon, one tablespoon of salt and a heaping teaspoon of powdered ginger. Boil all until pods are perfectly tender. Strain through sieve or colander, return to kettle and boil until it is a smooth, thick consistency.

When the home does its full duty by the children, no one will be found advocating turning over the job to politicians.—Houston Post.

NEWBERRY PLANS FOR CONVENTION

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING DISTINGUISHED GATHERING.

Prominent Speakers Will Come From All Parts of the Country—To Be Opened by the Governor.

The South Carolina Sunday School association will bring together some of the best talent in the educational and religious circles of the State at their annual convention, which is to be held at Newberry, April 20-22. With these prominent speakers and other noted workers from Illinois, Alabama, North Carolina and Georgia, the association is facing one of its most promising annual meetings.

The convention, which has for its theme "Religious Education," will be presided over by Major T. T. Hyde, of Charleston, and the opening address will be given on the evening of the 20th by Gov. R. I. Manning. Gov. Manning's subject will be "The Sunday School and Good Citizenship." The association is exceedingly fortunate in securing the governor for this address.

Bishop Guerry will make two addresses on the 21st, which are being anticipated with much pleasure by those who have heard him before, and Dr. J. Henry Harms, president of Newberry college, will make an address at one of the evening sessions.

Leaders of the Sunday school work in the different denominations of the state will be in attendance and take a prominent part. The Rev. Hugh R. Murchison, chairman of the Sunday school work of the Presbyterian church; the Rev. W. H. K. Pendleton, chairman of the Sunday school commission for the Episcopal church; the Rev. E. Fulenwider, for the Lutheran church; the Rev. J. W. Carson, for the A. R. P. church; the Rev. T. J. Watts, field secretary for the Baptists, and the Rev. W. C. Ower, field secretary for the Methodists, will bring greetings from their denominations and lend a hand towards making the convention one of remarkable interest and influence.

To Deliver Addresses.

J. M. Way, who for a number of years was general secretary of the association, will attend. Mr. Way is now divisional field secretary of the Methodist Sunday school board, South, and is one of the foremost Sunday school workers of the South. Other prominent workers taking part are as follows: Mrs. E. C. Cronk, of Columbia; Dr. George B. Cromer, of Newberry; Horace L. Bomar, of Spartanburg; Paul Quattlebaum, of Conway; Prof. H. A. Wise, of Columbia; J. P. McNeill, of Florence; F. M. Burnett, of Anderson; the Rev. Asa D. Watkins, of Spartanburg; A. J. Betha, of Columbia; Charlton DuRant, of Manning; Prof. T. W. Keitt, of Newberry; Miss Agnes Ravenel, of Spartanburg; and a number of others.

The afternoon conferences have been arranged to meet the needs of the Sunday school teachers in each department of a well organized Sunday school. Mrs. S. N. Burts, State elementary superintendent, will preside at the two elementary conferences, and has planned a most helpful program for the elementary teachers of the State. Paul Quattlebaum will have charge of a conference for the adult Bible class workers, H. A. Wise, the secondary division workers, Mrs. E. C. Cronk for those interested in missions, and S. B. Ezell will lead the home department conference. Major T. T. Hyde will preside at the superintendents' conference and the Rev. W. H. K. Pendleton at the conference for county officers and workers.

Prof. Patterson Wardlaw will have charge of the meeting on Thursday afternoon, when the question of the educational forces of the State helping to provide religious education will be discussed. It is expected that this will be one of the most interesting conferences of the whole convention.

Newberry is making elaborate plans for the entertainment of the delegates. The executive committee, with the Rev. E. Fulenwider as chairman, is at work getting everything in shape for the arrival of the 500 delegates expected. A reception committee, with Mrs. R. D. Wright as chairman, will entertain at an afternoon reception in honor of the visiting delegates. This will be a delightful opportunity for the

PUT BLACK CHAMPION TO SLEEP IN TWENTY-SIXTH ROUND

Special to The Herald and News.

Columbia, April 5.—The unexpected, yet much hoped for, happened today when big Jesse Willard, the "White hope" knocked out Jack Johnson, the negro champion pugilist, in the twenty-sixth round, at Havana, Cuba.

There is ten years difference in the age of the two men. Willard is not only younger, but has the better of the height and reach.

Willard weighed in a little above 240 pounds when he entered the ring, and the black scrapper tipped the beam in the neighborhood of 230 pounds.

White Cuban authorities readily granted permission for this fight, they will not, it is announced, sanction fight between local white and black men in the future. They say they are not concerned with foreign race problems, but have their own to deal with.

They did not take any chances today, however, as militia was freely disposed about the arena.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS FROM CAPITAL CITY

NEWBERRIAN IS CHAIRMAN OF CHARITIES BOARD.

The Liquor Laws in Columbia and Their Enforcement Subject of Discussion.

(By John K. Aull.)

Special to The Herald and News.

Columbia, April 5.—Gov. Manning has named the new board of pardons, as follows: David G. Ellison, of Columbia, three-year term; Henry C. Tillman, of Greenwood, two-year term, and W. E. Jenkinson, of Kingstree, one year term.

Mr. Henry C. Tillman, of Greenwood, is a member of the Greenwood bar, and a son of Senator Benjamin R. Tillman.

State Charities Board.

Dr. Geo. B. Cromer, of Newberry, has been chosen chairman of the State board of charities and corrections. Mr. R. H. King, of Charleston, a member of the board, has been chosen temporary secretary. The election of a permanent secretary and assistant secretary was deferred until a future meeting of the board. Both of these are good positions, carrying good salaries.

Liquor Laws in Columbia.

It was announced in the press of Saturday morning that Gov. Manning had placed the enforcement of the liquor laws in the city of Columbia in the hands of Sheriff McCain; that soon after he went into office he held a conference with Mayor Griffith and the sheriff and placed the enforcement of the laws in the city in the hands of the sheriff, but that reports of continued violations in the city has come to him, and that he had decided to place the matter in the hands of the sheriff. Following is statement in the public prints, city council held a special meeting on Saturday, and city council then called upon the governor, "contesting themselves," according to the Columbia State, "with telling the governor, through J. W. Richardson, chief of police, that the laws relating to whiskey selling and gambling were being enforced with the greatest possible strictness."

It is stated that at the special meeting of city council, Sheriff McCain happened to drop in on other business, and, called on by council to tell his opinion of conditions in the city, "said that the situation in Columbia was the best he had ever known. That no clubs were running and if liquor were being sold illegally it was by 'tip pocket' dealers."

The conference between the governor and city council is thus reported:

Everything "Tight."

"The conference between the governor and city council began at 12:30 o'clock by appointment and lasted half an hour.

"Mayor Griffith opened the conference by asking Chief Richardson to tell Gov. Manning about the enforcement of law in Columbia. Mr. Richardson made to the governor practically the same statement he had made to city council, asserting that he had done everything in his power to enforce the laws and that everything was 'tight.'"

"Have you full swing to act as you see fit in enforcing the laws?" Gov. Manning asked Mr. Richardson after he had finished his recital of the present virtuous state of Columbia.

"Yes, sir," answered Chief Richardson. "I have full authority."

"Gov. Manning said that he had felt that one interview with city officials on the matter of law enforcement was enough and that when he had become satisfied that everything possible was not being done to enforce the law he had called on other authorities.

"It is not our province to interpret the laws," said Gov. Manning. "We must enforce them as they stand on the books."

"Mayor Griffith told the governor that he believed that Chief Richardson had done his full duty.

"Upon you as mayor of Columbia rests the chief responsibility of enforcing the laws," Gov. Manning said, as he turned toward Mayor Griffith. "If I have proof that liquor is being sold illegally, then I must act. If I cannot get results from one local authority, it is my duty to turn to another one. I look first to the police in cities and to the sheriff in counties to enforce the law. But it is not enough for me to say, 'Enforce the law.' I must know that the laws are enforced."

"Has Sheriff McCain showed any more results than we have in enforcing the law in Columbia?" Chief Richardson asked Gov. Manning.

"Results in law enforcement can not be achieved in a day," replied Gov. Manning. "They come after continued and determined effort. It seemed for a time after my conference with the city authorities that results had been obtained and the laws were being enforced; but since then it appears from my information that conditions have gotten bad again."

"Councilmen Rice, Keenan and Dupre all said that they believed the town was 'tight.'"

"After some further discussion the conference between the governor and the city council ended."

"Clean-Up" Week.

This week has been set apart, by proclamation of the governor, as "clean-up" week throughout the State.

To Elect County Superintendent.

The State board of education meets here tomorrow, at which time a county superintendent of education for Newberry county will be chosen to succeed the present superintendent, Mr. Geo. D. Brown, when his resignation takes effect.

Columbia had beautiful weather for Easter day.

MAKING FINE PROGRESS.

Wheeland School Going From a One Teacher to a Two Teacher Rural Graded School.

The progress made in the Wheeland school district down near Little Mountain deserves special mention. During the past year the patrons of the school have put up a new building, and, anticipating the growth of the school, they erected two rooms so as to be ready for the second teacher. They also voted a two mill tax. Now they are preparing to take advantage of the State aid to rural graded schools and are going to vote a two mill additional tax, so that they may receive $200 from the State. They will have two teachers another session and over the necessary 50 children in order to get the $200 from the State. The Herald and News takes pleasure in commending the enterprise and public spirit of the citizens of this district. Nothing helps a community like a good school.
